As Mr. Lodge was put forward as the chief spokesman of the party his speech is treated as the offcial presentation of the issues on which the Republican leaders intend to make the campaign.

The Spanish War Record.

"Part three states the origin of the war with Spain, and recalls the stubborn resistance made by President Mc Kinley to intervention in Cuba, even after the Mains had been destroyed, and the causes thereof. The administration of the war department during the war with Spain is dramatically set forth.

The disgraceful prostitution of the commissary department to the interests of the delegas in capacid beaf is a preof the dealers in canned beef is pro duced in a condensed form from the testimony of the commission appointed by the President-a tribunal which was popularly understood to have been orgeneral Miles and of numerous officers whose reports he presented is produced and convicts the administration of permitting the business interests of ment packers to outweigh the health and comfort of the brave men who volunteered to fight their country's battles Commissary General Eagan's foulmouthed abuse of General Miles is given, for which he was court-martialed and sentenced to be dismissed from the army, This is followed by President Mc Kinley's approval of the conviction and several of the sentence. Instead of executing the sentence of dismissal, the President decorated General Eagan by relieving him from all further service in the army, but continued him in his high office at full pay. Attention is also given to the reckless disregard of santtation in the several camps of the army more destructive to our soldiers than the Spanish bullets. "In compliance with the mandate of the national convention, and following the example of the candidate, part three is devoted to imperialism as the para-mount issue, under the title of 'The Republic or the Empire.' The President's Philippine war is the longest chapter in cember to April, rode poughshod over gress in the exercise of its power, both inder the treaty and the constitution, to determine the civil and political status of the Filipines. The war waged upon them by the President is treated as a usurpation by him of the warmaking power for the purpose of transforming friendly allies into implacable enemies. The possibility of a Republican reconstruction policy in the Philippines and their division into five states for admission into the Union is clearly presented. The President's approval of he agreement with the sultan of Sulu presented, in which he upholds slavery and polygamy under States, flag. The report of the liberty congress of the anti-imperialists is followed by a chapter giving numerous dccisions of the supreme court, which clearly contradict the new Republican doctrine that the constitution is not the supreme law in the territories. The chapter of the cost of imperialism will attract general attention.

The British Alliance. "The British alliance is shown to exist, and some of its work is recited, no tably the surrender to Great Britain et tably the surrender to Great Britain of our proper rights in the construction of a canal through Nicaragus; the surrender to Great Britain of valuable mining territory in Alaska under the guiss of a temporary arrangement; the effort to screen the British foreign of-fice from the necessity of an apology for the violation of United States mails in South Africa by a British official, and, finally, the circulation, through one of the depariments in Washington, of British political pamphlets to create a false impression concerning the cause of the Boers.

"The stealings of United States Republican officials in Cuba occupy an entire chapter. It deals in facts from the records.

Porto Bican Tariff.

The nullification of the constitution by the Porto Rico act is shown to be imperialism applied," Extracts from the proceedings of congressional com-nittees expose the visible control of Congress by the sugar trust. Extracts from the proceedings of these committees show the presence of Mr. Oxnard, chief lobbyist for the sugar trust, and his advice, which was obeyed when the customs tariff was imposed on commerce between Porto Rico and other ports of the United States. A parallel is drawn between the Porto Rico bill and the British colonial system, showing that the Republican party prefers the British colonial system to the Republican trritorial system of the United States. ted States.
